Preface

Building upon the success of my first book of 'Autographs...Memories Forever', I am delighted to present this second book in the series of "Autographs...Memories Forever," which showcases the following 8 Winner Indian Cricket Teams of World Cup and Champions Trophy alongwith Winner Indian Cricket Team of ICC Women's World Cup - 2025:

- * ICC Men's World Cup - 1983 & 2011
- * ICC Men's T20 World Cup - 2007, 2024 & 2026
- * ICC Champions' Trophy - 2002, 2013 & 2025
- * ICC Women's World Cup - 2025

This book presents the autographs of captains, wicketkeepers, players, and coaches of these winning teams in their entirety. A unique feature of the book is the "Reel vs Real" section, where I've paired original autographs with photos of the real cricket players from the 1983 World Cup team, alongside the names and photos of the film actors from the biopic '83'.

This book is the result of my great and happy journey of 70 years with my friends 'Autographs'. Collecting and creatively arranging these autographs in thematic pages has been a thrilling experience.

I have time and again mentioned that this type of thematic and creative presentation of Autograph is made for my satisfaction and happiness. Just as 'Share the Knowledge - Spread the Knowledge' is the motto of my life, 'Share the Happiness - Spread the Happiness' is another understanding of my life. And in consonance with that understanding of 'Sharing my happiness', this book is prepared and published.

Here, I appreciate and acknowledge the help, support, guidance and encouragement given by the fellow Autograph collectors in pursuing my hobby of Autograph collection and preparing this book viz. Indian Army Veteran Colonel Vembu Shankar, Shaurya Chakra Vijeta of Chennai, Milind Wagle of Thane (Maharashtra), G D Agrawal of Kolkata, Santoshkumar Lahoti of Kolkata, Yogiraj Dr Sarvesh Soni of Nashik, Debapriyo Goswami of Kolkata, Amarjeet Singh of New Delhi, Ved Harsh of Lucknow, Dr Dhimant Purohit of Ahmedabad, Rakshit Pambhar of Rajkot, Nilesh Parmar of Ahmedabad and many others.

I am specially thankful to Shrey Mehta of Rajkot for reviewing the manuscript copy and suggested the necessary changes to make this book accurate and useful to the autograph collectors.

I also gratefully acknowledge the Google Internet Services and Wikipedia Sources from where I could get some scans and details.

I would also like to be grateful to my life-journey's partner-my wife, REKHA for her unwavering support and encouragement in this and all other projects.

I also acknowledge with gratitude the tireless efforts of Dipen Oza who made the design and layout of this book.

I hope this book will be a valuable resource for autograph collectors and cricket enthusiasts. With God's grace and my parents' blessings, I look forward to presenting more books in this series with different themes of Autographs of Indian celebrities in future.

Respects & Regards.....

Collecting autographs is much more than a hobby — it is a way of preserving history, emotion, and a deeply personal connection with remarkable individuals. Each signature tells its own story, capturing a moment in time and bringing us closer to the people and events that helped shape our world.

My heartfelt gratitude to Mr. Praful Thakkar, IAS, a true pioneer and visionary in this field, for his unwavering dedication to preserving and promoting the art of autograph collection in India. Through his meticulously researched and beautifully published works, he has inspired generations of collectors and ensured that this noble pursuit continues to flourish with dignity, passion, and grace.

It is my privilege to express my heartfelt admiration for the lifelong pursuit of hobbies of Shri Praful Thakkarji ('Dada'). His unwavering dedication, discipline, and devotion are truly inspiring — transforming a personal passion into a priceless treasury of knowledge and culture.

Over more than seven decades, Dada's remarkable journey as an ardent autograph collector stands as a shining example of how a sincere hobby, when pursued with vision and perseverance, can evolve into a legacy for generations to admire and learn from.

WINNER INDIAN CRICKET TEAM OF ICC MEN'S T20 WORLD CUP 2007

When the Benson & Hedges Cup ended in 2002, the ECB (England & Wales Cricket Board) sought another one-day competition to fill with the younger generation in response to dwindling crowds and reduced sponsorship. The Board wanted to deliver fast-paced, exciting cricket accessible to fans who were put off by the longer versions of the game. Stuart Robertson, the marketing manager of the ECB, proposed a 20-over per innings game to county chairmen in 2001, and they voted 11–7 in favour of adopting the new format of 20-over per innings.

This is that format now known as ICC Men's T20 World Cup (formerly the ICC World Twenty20). This Twenty20 International cricket tournament is now organized by the International Cricket Council (ICC) since 2007.

It was first decided that an ICC World Twenty20 would take place every two years, except in the event of a Cricket World Cup being scheduled in the same year, in which case it will be held the year before. In December 2007 it was decided to hold a qualifying tournament with a 20-over format to better prepare the teams. The first tournament was in 2007 in South Africa where India defeated Pakistan in the final.

As part of a goal to heighten the profile of the World Twenty20 tournaments, the ICC announced in 2018 that they would be rebranded as the "T20 World Cup" beginning in 2020—when Australia was to host both the men's and women's tournaments in the same year.

As of 2024, nine editions have so far been played and a total of 24 teams have competed. Only the West Indies, England and India have won the tournament more than once, all three nations having won two titles.

The 2024 T20 World Cup was hosted by the West Indies and the United States. It was the first time that the U.S. has hosted an ICC World Cup. In the 2024 final, held in the West Indies at Barbados, India won its second title against South Africa, equaling England and West Indies with the most titles in T20 World Cup.

India became the first country to win the tournament without losing any game.

ICC MEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP TROPHY

The ICC Men's Championship Trophy, also called the "Mini World Cup" or simply "Champions Trophy" is a cricket tournament organised by the International Cricket Council every four years. It was inaugurated as the ICC Knockout Trophy in 1998. Its name was changed to ICC Champions Trophy before the 2002 edition.

The ICC conceived the idea of the Champions Trophy – a short cricket tournament to raise funds for the development of the game in non-test playing countries. It remains as one of those ICC events that had the same format as that of another big cricketing event, like the Cricket World Cup, with the format being One Day Internationals. The tournament is one of the world's most viewed sporting events.

The current format involves a qualification phase, which takes place in the preceding edition of the Cricket World Cup to determine which teams qualify for the tournament phase. The top eight ranked teams in the World Cup (including the hosts of the Champions Trophy) secure a berth for the tournament. A total of thirteen teams have competed in the 8 editions of the tournament. Seven national teams have played in every edition of the tournament yet. The tournament has been held in 7 countries since its inception, with England hosting it thrice.

The number of teams in the Champions Trophy are fewer than the World Cup, with the latest edition of the World Cup having 10 teams whereas the latest edition of the Champions Trophy having 8.

Seven different nations have won the title. South Africa won the inaugural tournament, India and Australia have each won twice, while New Zealand, Sri Lanka, West Indies, and Pakistan have each won once. Australia (2006, 2009) is the only nation to have won consecutive titles. Bangladesh, Zimbabwe, England and Ireland are the only full ICC member nations (test-playing nations) not to win the Champions Trophy.

WINNER INDIAN CRICKET TEAM OF ICC WOMEN'S WORLD CUP-2025

The ICC Women's Cricket World Cup is the quadrennial international championship of the One Day International format with 50 overs per team. It is organised by the International Cricket Council (ICC).

Till now, thirteen World Cups have been held in five countries, with India and England having hosted the event three times. Australia is the most successful team, having won seven titles and failing to make the final on only four occasions. England (four titles), New Zealand and India (one title each) are the only other teams to have won the event, while the West Indies and South Africa (once each) have each reached the final without going on to win.

The 2025 ICC Women's Cricket World Cup was the 13th edition of Women's Cricket World Cup. India hosted the World Cup for the fourth time, after the 1978, 1997 and 2013 editions, with the tournament held from 30 September to 2 November 2025. This was the last time the tournament had eight teams.

India became champions after defeating South Africa in the final, securing their maiden World Cup title.

Before the commencement of the tournament, the ICC hosted a Trophy Tour, during which the trophy was taken to various locations across the four Indian host cities and in later to Colombo.

The tour began on 11 August in Mumbai. ICC Chairman Jay Shah, along with former cricketers Mithali Raj and Yuvraj Singh, and Indian cricketers Harmanpreet Kaur, Smriti Mandhana, and Jeminah Rodrigues, launched the Trophy Tour at a 50-day countdown event held in Mumbai.

The opening ceremony was held in Assam Cricket Association Stadium, Guwahati ahead of the tournament opener between India and Sri Lanka on 30 September. Indian singer Shreya Ghoshal performed the official World Cup anthem, "Bring it Home". During the series of Women's World Cup, three Indian players - Deepti Sharma, Smriti Mandhana and Jeminah Rodrigues - were named in the Women's World Cup 2025 Team of the Tournament for their outstanding performance.

Deepti Sharma was the highest wicket-taker at the Women's World Cup 2025 with 22 scalps. She took 5/39 in the final against South Africa.

Smriti Mandhana scored a century against New Zealand in the league stage and finished second on the list of highest run-scorers at the 2025 Women's World Cup with a tally of 434 and an average of 54.25.

Jeminah Rodrigues, meanwhile, played an unforgettable match-winning knock of 127 not out, which sent the hosts into the final at seven-time Women's World Cup champions.

With the remarkable co-ordination and performances of the Indian Women's Cricket Team Players, India won this ICC Women's World Cup 2025 for the first time.
